TEACCH 3 day Training

TEACCH 3 Day Induction led by the Director of Division, World renowned
Professor Gary Mesibov
In conjunction with Westminster Special Schools, London:

An opportunity for you to undertake TEACCH training in a smaller setting of only 55 people

Date: 26th – 28th June 2017

Venue: Access & Inclusion Centre, Queen Elizabeth II Jubilee School

Cost: £450:00 (including buffet lunch and refreshments)

Aims: The primary aim of the TEACCH program is to prepare Autistic people to live or work more effectively at home, at school and in the community.

- Improved adaptation: through the two strategies of improving skills by means of education and of modifying the environment to accommodate deficits.
- Parent collaboration: parents work with professionals as co-therapists for their children so that techniques can be continued at home.
- Structured teaching: it has been found that children with autism benefit more from a structured educational environment than from free approaches.

Who is the course for: Teachers, parents, learning support staff, SENCO's, social workers, all professionals working with pupils with Autism.

Bookings should be made online at <http://qe2cp.ng2.devwebsite.co.uk/form/?pid=186&form=17>
