Protective Behaviours Awareness Training Day 1

Outline

The participants will gain a knowledge of the elements of the framework
be able to see how the framework supports the agenda for SEMH, Safeguarding and SRE have an understanding of how they might use it in their setting know some ways of practically applying the framework with children, staff and strategically have some practical skills for supporting children and young people's resilience and mental well-being.

Description

This session will introduce the Protective Behaviours framework widely used in Australia, the US and in schools, settings and services outside of London. The framework is based around the themes of 'Everyone has the Right to Feel all of Time' and 'Nothing is so Awful or Small we can't talk with Someone About it'. Both of these themes are very relevant and critical for the times in which we currently find ourselves. The framework is process-based and easily adapted for your setting. It is also very relevant for the aspects of safeguarding that are often ignored i.e. how we do support children to know how to stay safe. This 1 day awareness of protective behaviours course will give you enough knowledge and understanding to be able to introduce some of the aspects of the framework in your own setting. We will be running a more in-depth and certificated 2 day Protective Behaviours Foundation Training over 4 online sessions later in the term.
