Facilitating Communication and Language for Children who are Deaf / Hard of Hearing

Outline

You will increase your understanding of the following:

- how language develops and the different stages of communication
- the impact of a hearing loss on communication development and learning
- practical strategies to support language, communication and learning for children who are deaf / hard of hearing

Description

This course will enable Early Years Practitioners to understand more about language development and the impact of deafness on early communication. You will also gain insight into practical strategies you can use to support the language development of young children with hearing loss.
