Bitesize training - Preparation for special events and holidays

Outline

This is a two-part 'bitesize' course designed to help you understand the challenges that special events and holidays can present for the autistic community. We will explore why changes to expected routine can cause challenge and will look at strategies we can use to support to prepare for, and cope with, these times. We hope to empower attendees to feel able to utilise strategies to support autistic pupils and their families at times of change.

Description

Day 1: 01/12/22 4:00-4:30pm

- Why changes to routine pose a challenge
- How we can prepare for upcoming changes or events
- Practical strategies to support for special events/holidays

Day 2: 06/12/22 4:00-4:30pm

- Reflection upon your use of strategies (learned in session 1)
- Review successes and any challenges
- Opportunity for questions and further advice

Outcome

You will be able to recognise and confidently utilise strategies to support the autistic community at times of change.
