SEND Training - The Bi-Borough Inclusion Service

Supporting students with a sensory loss and complex needs

Outline

This course is orientated towards professionals who support children with complex needs who also have a sensory loss, such as: hearing loss, vision impairment and multi-sensory impairment.

Description

During the course we aim to provide training on:

- Different forms and degrees of sensory loss
- What it feels like to have a sensory loss
- How communication and interaction differs for those with complex needs and a sensory loss, with particular focus on the communication hierarchy.
- What a friendly environment looks like for those with a sensory loss

Outcome

Our objective of the course is that you leave equipped with being able to

- Increase your knowledge of sensory loss and common conditions
- Understand the impact of having a sensory loss alongside complex needs
- Be confident in employing the strategies learned in your professional practice
- Apply your understanding of learning environments and adapt these to suit your learner
